Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce announces new industrial program

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Most new jobs come from businesses already located in an area, said Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice President R.C. Bush.

More than 45 percent of all new jobs come from industries already located in a given area, according to national Chamber of Commerce statistics.

BUSH WANTS to keep those jobs in the Tri-Cities area. To do that, he has designed an innovative program which chamber representatives will initiate in May.

"We want area manufacturers to know we're just as interested in helping them as we are in bringing new business to the area," Bush said. "Retention and expansion of our existing employers are vital if we are to experience real growth."

Some economic development efforts of the past have concentrated on bringing new business and industry to the area, Bush said.

"New business might make big headlines, but helping existing businesses' profitability here is

Scouts to clean up town

GRANITE CITY — Like the marshals from old western movies, scouts in the Tri-Cities area are going to clean up the town between April 26 and May 2.

It has been an annual event since 1979. About 800 Girl and Boy Scouts will spearhead the Chamber of Commerce community betterment cleanup week.

Area scout troops have 33 projects planned for the week. They will walk the streets picking up trash where they find it and blasting it in garbage bags donated by area merchants.

"In return, the scouts will receive a free meal at McDonald's."

"We're trying to improve the living environment in the Tri-Cities area," said project head Mary Brown. "Merchants, industries and community groups all help out."

Brown encourages home owners to take advantage of cleanup week and place larger items next to their garages where it will be hauled by the city.

more important," he said.

NEW BUSINESSES for one community usually mean lost businesses for another, Bush said.

Businesses often leave communities because they have no room to expand or modernize plants at existing locations, he said. If area businesses have such thoughts, Bush hopes his plan will change their minds.

During the first phase, Bush plans on organizing about 100 volunteers into three-member teams which will visit each existing manufacturing facility in the Tri-Cities Area.

CHAMBER REPRESENTATIVES will be armed with information on local, state and federal assistance programs designed to improve profitability at existing locations. Also included will be assistance information in areas like job training, management assistance, fixed asset financing and public works improvements.

Teams will consist of chamber and city government representatives, and business people.

"Perhaps an employer has outgrown its capacity at its present location," Bush said. "Because of a lack of interest from the community, they may decide to move somewhere else."

Along with providing assistance information, chamber visitors will ask what manufacturers like and don't like about their present locations.

"We want to express a community interest and appreciation," Bush said.

DURING the second part of the program, Bush will follow up the team visit with a specific review of each manufacturer's needs.

"I might not have all the answers, but I'm in a position to find people who do," he said. "There are programs in place for most businesses that many don't know about."

Officials plan to kick off the program during a May 1 breakfast at Charlie's Restaurant.

Friends honor Rea

GRANITE CITY — Frank Rea opened Skotty's Jewelry and Card Shop Friday morning at 9:15. He always opens the shop at that time.

Friday was different because Rea was supposed to be retired. More than 50 friends, relatives, and past and present park officials attended Rea's retirement dinner at the St. Louis Area Support Center Thursday evening.

For the last 31 years, Frank Rea has been secretary with the Granite City Park District.

Since 1955, Rea has seen the district grow from a handful of employees with a simple budget into one of the largest taxing bodies in the Quad-Cities.

Rea took the job when Wesley "Pop" Senefl resigned. Senefl bowed out when the district began dealing with the federal Social Security system.

Rea helped establish systems for Social Security, payroll and Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund insurance coverage as the park district grew in size and in the number of programs offered.

Until last July, Rea figured the district payroll, including federal and state withholding, every two weeks in his "park district" office in the back of his shop at 1804 Niedringhaus Ave.

"To show how valuable he was to us: It's going to take two people to replace him," said George Sykes, current Park Board president.

Sykes was one of many speakers. (See REA, Page 8B).

At long last, waterslide set to open in Venice

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Communitywide festivities to mark the opening of the Lee Park waterslide were discussed at Thursday night's meeting of the Venice Board of Park Commissioners.

Preliminary plans call for a ribbon cutting ceremony at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 24, at the waterslide site in Lee Park.

SECURITY MEASURES were proposed to safeguard visitors attending a three-day Memorial Day weekend festival, scheduled in conjunction with the waterslide opening.

A softball tournament spanning two weekends of competition and concluding with playoff games on Memorial Day, Monday, May 26, also will highlight the "grand opening" festivities, park commissioners agreed.

Booths will be rented to individuals and organizations during the weekend of May 24 through 26, it was decided.

RESERVATIONS for booth space are now being taken at the Venice Park District office, 324 Broadway.

Rental fees will be $50 for three days and space will be assigned on a first come, first serve basis, the Rev. John Henry Williams, Park Board president, said.

Agreements will be drawn up between a booth lessee and the district.

"They can sell any item they want, anything but alcohol," Williams said.

PARK COMMISSIONERS may sponsor a beer truck at the festival, if permission is granted by the authorities and a special permit is issued permitting the sale of beer on public property.

Prior to the softball tournament, all three ball diamonds in Lee Park will need to be reconditioned. Arnold Johnson, Park District manager, advised the board. He was assured that plowing the diamonds and other work will be done.

"WHATEVER we have to do for the safety of the people coming out here to enjoy themselves, I mean whatever it takes, we will do," Williams promised.

"I think we will need quite a few police officers," the board president said. "We should negotiate with the Venice Police Department, and find out which men will be off duty and are willing to work."

The Rev. Harold Wilson, a board member and a Madison County deputy sheriff, was asked to make arrangements with Venice police and also with the sheriff's department to enlist off-duty deputies.

APPROVAL WAS GIVEN to Charles Collins, park district recreation director, to arrange for a disc jockey to perform about 2 p.m. Saturday, May 24, in the tennis courts area.

A check-in system also was discussed for persons wishing to change clothing prior to riding the waterslide.

A bathroom has not yet been constructed adjacent to the site, it was explained.

ALL ARRANGEMENTS for opening the waterslide still hinge on the Venice Park District's ability to obtain liability insurance through the Suburban Risk Management Association, 65 park districts from around the state which have banded together.

"We are still on target for liability insurance being obtained before opening day," Johnson said. The application was thought to have been completed, but the association last week requested additional figures on replacing the two park district buildings in the event they were destroyed, Johnson said.

An insurance contract is scheduled to be received by the Venice board late this month.

New insurance was sought last year by the park district when premiums shot up from $2,400 to $24,000 in one year.

A further $25,000 one-year premium was quoted for the waterslide, Williams said.

SHUTTLE BUS SERVICE through Granite City is discussed by Dan Merchoff and Mayor Von Dee Cruise Friday morning.

GRANITE CITY — It was an unusual sight for some when Mayor Von Dee Cruse boarded one of the new ACT shuttle buses Friday morning.

Most mayors don't ride the bus. CRUSE WANTED to see firsthand how the new ACT shuttle buses were serving the community since they were first implemented March 24.

It just would like to see the people who use the bus and how they like the service," he said while waiting at the bus stop. "The best way to find out is to ask the people who use it."

At 8:52 a.m., the white and green bus arrived on time at 19th Street and Edison Avenue.

The door to the bus was opened and the mayor was greeted by driver Robert Bell, a former Granite City fireman on the bus surprised passenger Dan Merchoff.

"I'm kind of shocked to see the mayor on the bus this early in the morning," he said.

A student at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, Merchoff depends on the ACT bus that replaced buses from the Bi-State Development Agency on two routes.

"I think the service gets you around better," Merchoff said. "I enjoy taking this bus. It's cheaper."

Madison discusses overtime

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — The cost of renovating the city treasurer's office and the cost of overtime pay for police officers were discussed again at Tuesday night's City Council meeting. Aldermen William Gushlett and Don Wilson urged reductions.

No decision was made on urging the Board of Police Commissioners to select probationary officers from an existing list of candidates, even though aldermen said there are two vacancies on the police department.

THE $2,262 COST of repairs and remodeling of the treasurer's office was higher than an amount estimated to complete the work.

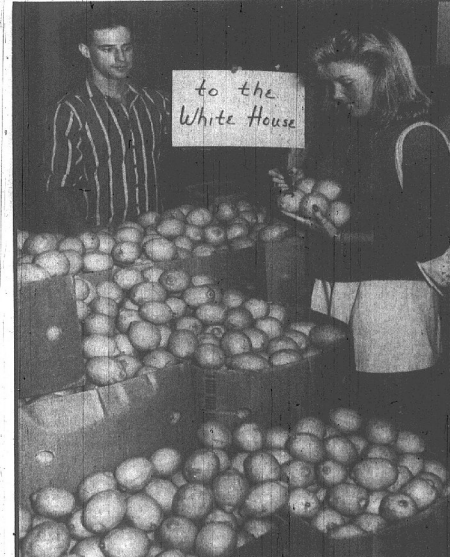

However, Fred Bathon, city treasurer, told the council he was working on the project himself to keep the cost down. The office area is being expanded.

The price listed was for materials, including carpeting, paneling, electrical work, repair of the ceiling, heating and air conditioning, he said.

PAYMENT FOR THE PROJECT will be made from the revenue sharing fund in the city budget, not from other city finances, the treasurer said.

Police Chief William Papa noted that with the resignation of Thomas Voloksi and the recent death of William Fanning, the police department is understaffed.

"I have taken the afternoon shift to help reduce the cost of overtime pay, but we are using men on McCambridge Avenue to control excessive speeding, especially during the hours the children are crossing to and from school," Papa said.

MESSAGE TO THE WHITE HOUSE: Students at SIUE are voicing their opinion of the Gramm-Rudman legislation by gathering lemons to send to the White House. Signing one of 10,000 lemons is Jill Erwin, Granite City, a freshman at the university majoring in nursing. Student body president Earl Campbell points to the destination. The students plan to deliver the signed lemons to the White House Oval Office on Wednesday in protest of $3.5 million reductions proposed for federal aid programs at university.

Teamwork key to steel remedy

Quad-City Area residents are not fully able to judge the advantages and disadvantages of the tentative three-year agreement reached by the steel union and National Steel Corp. That is the task of United Steelworkers of America members, who will cast mail ballots.

But many people are hopeful that the new contract will be ratified. Its defeat could be destructive to the interests of the steelworkers, this community and region, and the loss-plagued steelmaker, which is trying to contend with a worldwide glut of steel and extremely low price levels.

It is easy for an outsider to say the members should accept a $1.50 hourly reduction in labor costs, said to average nearly $24 at present. Included are a $1 decrease in wages and benefits, said to average nearly $14, and 50 cents in tax and other savings. But the tentative plan also may appear attractive to individual workers, who are being offered job security.

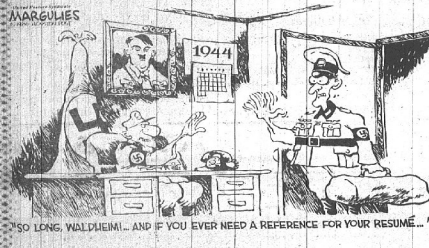

Aside from staff reduction through attrition, including that resulting from early retirement incentives, the contract guarantees there will be no layoffs at Granite City Steel, Great Lakes Steel and Midwest Steel. Where a job is eliminated, an employee security pool will provide another position for the individual.

Profit-sharing and gain-sharing are included in the agreement and there is to be extensive participation in decision-making, giving all a voice in how steel can be produced with speed, high quality and low cost.

Commenting on the economic part of the settlement approved by the company and by union locals' presidents, Buddy W. Davis, the chief union negotiator, said, "The profit-sharing plan provides that you get at least 50 cents an hour even if the company loses money. And the annual bonus can be as much as $1.75 an hour."

Perhaps the most intriguing aspect of the contract is the massive emphasis on teamwork.

Such a cooperative approach to problem-solving makes a lot of sense. It can give everyone at the steel mill a satisfying role in leading it to new heights of achievement and success. Best of all, it may well be the most important ingredient in making that success a reality.

Youth Council dance only a beginning

It's been a year since the residents of Granite City elected a new mayor. And one of the promises made by the mayor, Von Bee Cruise, was to start a youth council.

The youth of Granite City played a large part in Cruise's victory. They went around the city knocking on doors urging people to vote for him. They even wore "Cruise for Cruise" t-shirts.

Cruise has not forgotten what the youngsters did for him. And he kept his promise when he established the Granite City Council for Youth.

The council, made up of 10 adults and 24 teenagers, took a survey of area young people to find out what type of activities the city's young people would be interested in.

But activities were just part of the answers they received. The youths wanted a place to go, a place of their own.

Columnists' Club

By Bill Bagby

Places for area teenagers to go are few and far between, excluding the streets. The schools offer some activities for the teens. But after spending six or more hours a day at school, many want somewhere else to go.

There are some clubs designed for teenagers, though most of them are located elsewhere in the St. Louis area. The Granite City teens need a place to go in Granite City where they can hang out and have fun. The youth council could.

A start was made Friday, April 4, when the youth council held its first dance at Frather Elementary School. Approximately 250 teenagers danced to the beat, dressed in beach fashions.

Youth members of the council were there and enjoyed a dance and two. But they worked, too. They collected the money. They made sure everything went smoothly.

The adult members were there to help and, most importantly, to offer support.

The adults even "got down to the sound" as the teens danced. Not too many kids get to see the mayor, several aldermen and the assessor dance to rock 'n' roll music.

Even John Petish, a "senior youth," was there. "When the dance was over, everyone declared it a success. And a start. A start of a concerted effort for the opening of a youth center in Granite City."

The young members of the council worked hard for their first dance. They know if the youth center is to be a reality, there is going to be much more hard work to follow.

Already, the council is planning another dance, for it is at Township Hall, and hopes are high that it will be as successful as the first one.

Through the efforts of the youth members of the council and the support and help of the adults, there's no reason why it won't be. Seeing the youths dressed in flowered shirts and Bermuda shorts at their first dance, it was apparent they weren't dressed for a debutante ball.

But they didn't care. It was their night, and they enjoyed it. They had a place to go. A place where they could be themselves and enjoy the company of their friends.

And they made it home without being drunk or high. That beats not making it home at all.

Warfield outlines local Democratic Party plans

As newly re-elected chairman of the Madison County Democrats, I recently spoke about my plans for the organization's future agenda.

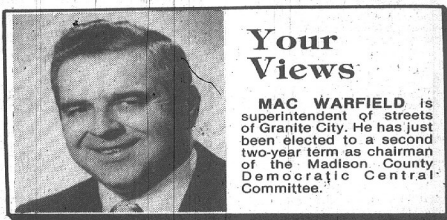

I sounded a strong unity theme. This party will work together harder than ever to push local candidates to success in November, and I said the statewide effort could count on our strong support as well.

It is an honor and a privilege to be elected to serve again as the Democratic Party chairman. I believe we now have party leadership that is geographically balanced and willing to pull together to present a unified ticket in the fall.

Also elected March 31 were three vice-chairmen: William Tekowski, Collinsville; Ed Votmar, Alton; and Edwardsville Township Supervisor Robert Stille.

State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, stepped down as the party's secretary-treasurer, a post he has held for the past 16 years. We voted to divide the former one-man post by electing Glen Carbon Village Trustee Ed Williams as secretary and Madison County Board member Dan Donohoo, Wood River, as treasurer.

Party to look toward new and innovative ways to get out the information about our candidates and to make sure the voters are thoroughly informed.

I am referring to the recent LaRouche candidates' victory surprise for the statewide offices of lieutenant governor and secretary of state.

We applaud the decision of Adlai Stevenson to disavow the candidacy of these neo-Nazi radicals who have no place calling themselves Democrats.

We are fully supportive of Adlai's decision to run as an independent candidate and we believe his election in November will not be a monumental task. In fact, quite the opposite may be true.

We are going to work harder than ever to raise funds to provide a visible election campaign. We plan to hold more meetings with respective township chairmen and office holders and we are going to work vigorously to get our younger members and committeewomen involved as well.

I also would like to say Stevenson's "Punch 3" campaign in the general election will not be too difficult for voters to understand and that I am confident the LaRouche surprise will sufficiently entice citizens to vote intelligently so as not to put radical extremists into public office.

House Majority Leader Jim McPike, D-Alton, has said Stevenson's message to the legislative members of the General Assembly last Tuesday was well received.

He said if Adlai Stevenson were to quit the campaign now, there is no way the rest of the Democrats could come out victorious in the fall, and that no one can vote straight Democratic with LaRouche's allies on the ticket.

I also took a shot at local Republicans for their recently announced party position to vote against retention of the five Circuit Court judges up for re-election in 1988.

The Republicans are saying they will vote against retaining the judges currently serving on the bench unless at least two Republicans are appointed to associate judgeships. It is my understanding that judges are selected on merit, not politics.

The name of Everett Kelly was inadvertently given as Kelly Hodges in a front-page story in Thursday's issue on persons who spoke at the annual Granite City town meeting. Both men are retired Granite City Police Department officers. The newspaper regrets the error.

Belts praised, deaths drop

To the editor:

The downward trend in automobile occupant fatalities thus far in fiscal 1986 provides dramatic additional proof that the state's safety belt use law is working to save lives.

Ninety-two lives have been saved in the first nine months (July-March) since the law went into effect, as compared to the five-year average for that period.

Occupant fatalities for those nine months totaled 711, a 11.5 percent decrease from the immediately preceding five-year average of 800 deaths for the same nine-month period.

Provisional figures from the Illinois Department of Transportation show 66 occupant deaths this March, a 10.8 percent decrease from the five-year average of 74 deaths for March and a 14.2 percent decrease from the 77 killed in March 1985.

Although the percentages are welcome news, it is the saving of lives that impels the Coalition and other safety groups to increase our efforts to get more Illinois drivers and front seat passengers into the buckle-up habit in compliance with the law.

Based on solid scientific evidence from 30 countries which have mandatory safety belt use laws, we believe that as the number of safety belt users increases in Illinois, the number of lives saved in automobile accidents also will increase.

Writing an editorial takes plenty of work

Being the sole editorial voice for the Quad-City Area, three times each week, we receive a lot of mail. It seems like it could make us a bit hoarse.

But not so, as demonstrated here of the last four weeks by the absence of this column.

The editor's "Media Mandarin" column is expendable when it comes to more important editorial page material. Thus, if your club news is held an issue or two, you know the editor means it when he says he understands how you feel.

Since we're talking about the editorial page, an article in the latest issue of Publishers' Auxiliary suggested editorial writers should, from time to time, explain how they arrive at their opinions.

With some hesitation, that's a goal worthy of effort.

The reason for the hesitation is the process used in coming to the point of writing an editorial will vary depending on the content. For example, we recently needed to write a breezy little editorial on spring but its another matter when it comes to taking a stand on something being done by a local government body.

Media Mandarin

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive Editor

With that being said, let's deal with the editorial that's certain to be locally significant. For those pieces, we gather as much information as possible. This might include attending local government meetings, hearing from persons close to the issue, reading editorial coverage of the issue in other publications as well as our own, putting all the information together and then drawing conclusions.

It's not an exact science, and we do not have the gall to claim we're always right. No one stating an opinion is always right. I suppose that's the difference between facts presented on a news page and the opinions stated on the editorial page.

To exemplify this condition of research leading to an opinion, let's quickly review recent editorials on the Granite City School Board.

We obviously think things should have been conducted differently in terms of the closed meetings and the hiring of four principals. We believe parts of the closed meeting could have been held in open session if the board had worked at it. We also believe the board should have accepted the four persons recommended for principalships by the committee of teachers and administrators.

Our opinions certainly differ from the opinions of other board members, including the opinion of Board President Dewey Melton.

The fact that we have a newspaper and he doesn't, however, could leave him in a bind with any who disagree with us. Fortunately, this community has a newspaper that aims at fairness.

We welcomed Melton's letter and will welcome letters from any other persons who can responsibly agree or disagree with us on any issue. Melton's letter is a perfect example of how to present an intelligently stated opposing view.

In his opinion, having conducted more of the closed meetings in public session would have been cumbersome and would have risked injury to the reputations of some employees. He believes board members should and did exercise the obligation to hire the best persons for principalships rather than simply rubber-stamping recommendations.

We politely disagree, but concede Melton's points were well taken and worthy of the public's review and understanding. They provided a look at the issue from a different perspective as equally rooted in public concern as our own.

You can see we take our editorial page seriously. We put each thought into each editorial and we believe we're on target, and usually hitting the bull's eye.

But we're not narcissistic. If you disagree with our views, believe we're just plain wrong, or even if you want to back us up, don't miss the opportunity to say so in your Press-Record/Journal. We value your opinions as highly as our own.

The Press-Record/Journal welcomes letters to the editor. Names, addresses and telephone numbers must accompany all letters.

1966 class plans reunion

The Granite City High School class of 1966 is planning its 20-year reunion with a dinner-dance at the Pipefitters Hall in St. Louis on Saturday, July 19.

Help is needed in locating many of the classmates. Those who were 1966 graduates and have not received a letter and data sheet are being asked to make contact.

Granite City Parks plan Memphis tour

GRANITE CITY The Park District is planning a three-day weekend trip to Memphis, Tenn., on May 16-18, which will coincide with the annual "Memphis in May" celebration.

The group will leave the Wilson Park ice rink at 8 a.m. Friday and journey to Memphis with a lunch stop at Lambert's Restaurant in Sikeston, Mo. The group will stay at the Memphis Ramada Inn.

A late afternoon meal on Friday will be at the Lakeland Cafe, whose specialty is fresh catfish. This buffet meal will be included in the cost of the trip. After dinner, the group will shop at the nearby Outlet Mall, consisting of 50 factory outlet shops.

On Saturday of the trip, a guide will board the bus and provide Granite Citizens with a three-hour tour, pointing out the highlights of Memphis. The tour includes the Peabody Hotel, where each day ducks travel down the elevator and walk across the red-carpeted lounge to a fountain in the lobby. Other stops include the renovated Beale Street area and Memphis Botanical Gardens.

After the tour, the group will board a motorboat to Mud Island, a 50-acre island that pays tribute to the history and heritage of the Mississippi River. From the island, the visitors will go to the Pink Palace Museum.

On Sunday morning, the group will visit Elvis Presley's home, "Graceland." The tour group will return to the Wilson Park ice rink at about 6 p.m.

Cost will be $133 for a single, $101.45 for two to a room, $91.45 for three to a room and $86.55 for four to a room. This includes the bus fee, motel cost, tour of the city, admission to Mud Island and the museum there, admission to Graceland and the meal on Friday evening. Reservations will be taken at the park office on Tuesday, April 22, at 9 a.m.

Legal Rights of Women program for GC Unit

Janina Burnett, extension advisor for the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, presented a lesson on "Legal Rights of Women" at a meeting of the Granite City Unit last week.

The group met at the Nameoki Presbyterian Church with Martha McIlvoy presiding. Others participating in the opening ceremony were Mary Mayhail, Vivian Byers and Vera Lynn.

McIlvoy announced the Southwest District meeting will be in Venice on May 21 and will be a spring salad luncheon. The annual meeting in Highland is scheduled for April 30 to celebrate 50 years of Homemakers in Madison County.

She noted Alma Beckman, a member of the unit, is a 50-year member of the association.

Two new members, Sophia

Thomas and Joanne Spohr, were introduced.

It was noted a craft day will be conducted on May 11 at the church. A report was given by the president on a trip to Champaign in March. Donna Lorenz said she and McIlvoy visited three schools and talked to 230 children about seatbelts and safety rules.

A prize went to Helen Harshany. The nominating committee, Louise Thompson, Mary Radick and Harshany, presented a slate of officers for election and said the installation will be held in June, with Ann Konopa as chairman. Jo Uram and Stephanie Milkovich will serve as hostesses in June and the lesson will be on "Oriental Cookery," to be given by Leona Delafaye, Ann Michels and Elizabeth Messerschmidt.

Chess club for those 8 to 80

The YMCA has started a chess club, which meets Saturday mornings from 10 to 11. The club is for enthusiasts of chess over the age of eight years. It will play matches, study problems, and hold tournaments throughout the year.

"I've always been a player, but have had trouble finding opponents since college," said Bob

Slate, leader of the club. "This has created many new opponents, and I have learned some new strategies as well."

One of the club's next activities will be to play "chess by mail." Slate predicted members can "open up a whole new world of opponents and friendships as well."

Persons may call the YMCA at 876-7200 for further information.

Richeson qualified

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Ever since he was in the second grade, Christian Richeson has wanted to win a district spelling bee.

This year, he is closer than ever to that dream.

Last week, Richeson was one of four junior high school students to qualify for the final round of the Globe-Democrat spelling bee. He did it by spelling 10 words.

"Most of the words I've never heard of," Richeson said.

They were words like hypocrisy, raucous, ancestry, coefficient and others not likely to be found in your average pocket dictionary.

Richeson, 13, is competing in his third metropolitan spelling competition this year. Two years ago, he finished sixth. Last year, he dropped out early.

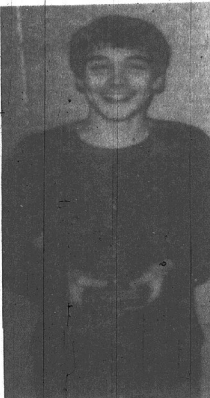

Last week, he topped a field of 70 entrants who, like himself, had won spelling bees at their schools. Today, he is one of four St. Louis area finalists who hope to qualify for the national spelling bee at Washington D.C. in late May.

"I'm not all that smart," Richeson said. "There are plenty of kids at this school (Grigsby Junior High) who are smarter than me."

The son of Francis and Marian, 4175 Breckridge Lane, Richeson said he wants to go on to college and work in a physics or science related field. He currently studies algebra, science, English and social studies.

He said his interest in spelling bees comes from playing second in a district spelling bee during second grade.

"From there on I've wanted to win them," he said. Since that time he has won six school championships and competed in two district finals.

Christian Richeson

"Spelling bees give you a sense of accomplishment and self-satisfaction," he said. "It's a bit of a knack, but to be prepared for some of these words you need to do a lot of work."

Books stimulate child's imagination

GRANITE CITY — Birthdays, Christmas, good report cards, with so many occasions for gift giving, it is only natural that some gifts will be books. However, 2,000 different children's books are published each year, finding the right book can be difficult.

The Children's Department of the Granite City Public Library offers a variety of materials to help parents choose appropriate reading material for all ages and reading levels.

These books, aimed at parents, offer practical advice on how books can be used not only to entertain and comfort, but also to stimulate the child's imagination.

Some books, such as "How to Grow a Young Reader: A Parent's Guide to Kids and Books" by John and Kay Lindscoot, and "Babies Need Books" by Dorothy Butler, stress the introduction of books to children at a very early age.

"The Read-aloud Handbook" by Jim Trelease and "Let's Read Together: Books for Family Enrichment" by the American Library Association encourage parents to continue reading to their children after they learn to read by themselves as a way to develop strong family bonds.

"Children and Books" edited by Zena Sutherland, now in its seventh edition, is meant for adults who are interested in bringing books and children together and is often used as a textbook for college-level classes in children's literature.

All of these books include suggested reading lists, usually arranged by age level or type of book. These and many other books of interest to parents are located in the parents' collection of the Children's Department and are available for circulation, a spokesman said.

Madison businessmen hear Brancagione

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

John Brancagione, director of planning of WVP Corp., suggested various projects and programs Tuesday night to enhance the image of the Madison business district.

He spoke at a meeting of the Madison Businessmen's Association held at Voloski's Restaurant. "A business district that is stable today worked hard to get there. And if it is successful, there was probably a full-time community district manager operating in the context of development and promotion," the speaker said.

He added that two things function together — a good data base and territory. Businessmen should be aware of who owns the buildings and businesses in their area, he stressed.

When the structure become empty or the owner leaves the area, they should use this information when contacting a prospective new business owner; there should never be a vacuum in the area. And, financially sound business district, the group was told.

One of the best ways to approach changing the image is to clean up or paint the facade of the business place and use signs that coordinate with the appearance of the building and those adjoining.

"Keep the whole atmosphere in a smooth, eye-catching appearance that is pleasing to the customer," the guest speaker said.

He emphasized that merchants should not be upset if a discount place moves into the district, because this will bring much more traffic into the area and stimulate sales at the smaller business places.

Parking also is seen by some people as a big problem, he said; some of this can be solved by the owners and their employees parking some place other than in front of the store. Also, there are usually empty lots within walking distance that can be utilized as parking areas for customers, he said.

Brancagione said, "Some of these suggestions may not be applicable here; however, I wanted to give you some ideas. Attention should be given to the building facade, small repairs, and paint and color schemes that are compatible. These will save the owner money and improve the overall look of a building."

Ray Edwards presided at the session and introduced Bob Vaughn, who spoke on new banners to be installed in the Madison business district.

There will be 40 banners attached to utility poles along Madison Avenue and three along Third Street near the City Hall, under the supervision of Robbie Robbins, Madison city street superintendent.

Matching posters are available to be displayed in store windows, Vaughn said.

A campaign to "clean up and fix up" the Madison area will be conducted in conjunction with the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Cleanup Day this month, Margaret Lee said.

Edwards said planters in front of all business places are being replanted and he added the street department has agreed to water the plants once a week during the summer.

"Business After Hours" will be held at the First National Bank in Madison on Monday, April 14 from 5:30 to 7 p.m., sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for business people.

Creates lottery department

Gov. James R. Thompson issued an executive order March 27 creating the Department of the Lottery and announced the appointment of Rebecca Paul as the first director.

"The lottery has grown steadily in size and stature over the last 10 years, enjoying so much success it is now the fourth largest source of revenue for the state," the governor said. "In fiscal 1985, the lottery sold more than $1.2 billion in tickets, netting more than $500 million for Illinois' Common School Fund."

Under the order, the Lottery will be given departmental status, transferring all of its personnel and duties from the Department of Revenue, under which it now operates, to its own independent operation.

Thompson said the move will eliminate unnecessary duplication of effort in personnel and other management areas.

"All lottery functions will be streamlined under this move," Thompson said. "And the lottery's already-efficient operations will be further refined, including expedient payment of prizes to lottery winners."

"Rebecca Paul has already demonstrated her administrative strengths at the top of the lottery. In the short time she has headed its operation, she has ushered in Lotto's second weekly drawing, doubling the number of winners."

3 new prisons may include E. St. Louis

The state has plans to construct three new prisons as a way of making its oldest penal institutions safer. Construction of one new prison to begin each year for the next three years is proposed. Legislative leaders are requesting proof of the need.

"Those being sent to prison in Illinois reflect our policy that violent offenders be sent there for longer sentences. Those sentenced for the crimes of murder, aggravated criminal sexual assault, armed robbery and other violent actions are receiving longer terms," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

He directed Department of Corrections Director Michael P. Lane and James Williams, the governor's assistant for public safety, to conduct hearings in Canton, Ill., Macomb, Mo., Sterling, Ill., and the East St. Louis area, all of which in 1982 expressed a desire to be the site of a new prison. The hearings are to determine if that sentiment remains.

Following the review, he said, two sites will be announced in May. He said those cities should update their 1982 proposals and submit them by contacting Lane.

Hearings for possible sites for the third new prison may be held later in the year, and will be open to all interested cities.

The six primary locations were developed by Lane and his staff from 1982 site evaluation criteria which included hospital access, higher education facilities, availability, highway access, topography, the availability of water, sewer, electric and gas services, availability of land, and degree of community approval for such a project.

The new prisons would be medium-security facilities for 20 inmates, each to employ about 400 persons, with a yearly total payroll of about $10 million.

All categories of offenders would be housed in each location. Total cost would be $125 million, or about $41 million per prison. There will be no reduction in personnel at existing maximum-security prisons despite any drop in inmate count, Thompson stressed.

"Our four oldest state prisons also are our most crowded. They are the places where violent acts are occurring and where they are likely to continue to occur, not because of bad management but because of overcrowding."

"We must begin to reduce the populations at Stateville, Menard, Pontiac and Joliet to better protect those who work there and those who must serve sentences there," the governor said. "These will remain in operation, fully staffed, but their populations must be reduced for safety reasons."

A Department of Corrections report, "Adult Corrections Center Capacity Survey," released in March, identified the need to reduce the current rated capacity of the prison system by 3,858 beds, including 3,155 in the four oldest facilities. The survey said that, historically, the rated capacity of the system merely had indicated the number of inmates who could be packed into the operating prisons, not the number who could safely be housed.

The percentage of Illinois prisoners incarcerated for murder, Class X and Class 1 crimes has increased from 56 percent of the prison population in 1982 to more than 65 percent today.

Adults sentenced to prison for the three top crime categories since 1982 have increased by 6,570 more than the entire prison population in 1972.

Nearly 75 percent of violence-prone inmates are confined at the four oldest, most crowded penitentiaries, the survey showed.

Michael J. Mahoney, executive director of the John Howard Association, a Chicago-based prison watchdog group, said, "The capacity report is the finest document the department has yet produced. It is accurate and on target. I am in 100 percent support of reducing populations in this state's maximum-security prisons, and in firm support of the ultimate goal of single celling of each inmate."

Lane said the average of serious disciplinary reports at Joliet, Stateville, Pontiac and Menard has risen by more than 200 a month from 1983 to 1986. Included in these reports are assaults on staff by inmates, assaults on other inmates by inmates, inmate fighting, inmate gang activities, dangerous disturbances, and attempted intimidation of both staff and other inmates by inmates.

"These and other factors contribute significantly to the increased violence at Pontiac, Menard, Stateville and Joliet," Thompson said. "For the last month, Pontiac correctional officer — a young man just beginning his corrections career — received multiple serious stab wounds near his heart and his back."

"A few days after this, a Menard correctional officer was assaulted with a pipe. Bones in his nose and face were fractured and his skull separated — injuries which will require reconstructive surgery."

"Charges of attempted murder and armed violence have been brought against the inmates who attacked the Pontiac officer. The inmates responsible for assaulting the Menard officer will also face charges which will extend their prison terms upon conviction," he said.

"We will continue to aggressively prosecute all inmates who violate the law while in prison. But the only reasonable logical way to decrease the number of violent incidents is to reduce the populations at our oldest prisons."

Dixon proposes tenant operation of public housing

U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon has introduced legislation that would provide for tenant management of public housing developments. Modeled after tenant management experiments across the nation, it is intended to improve living conditions at public housing by giving residents more responsibility.

"Where many resident management teams currently exist, tenant services have improved and maintenance costs have been reduced," Dixon said. "There has been a reduction in the number of residents receiving public assistance, and rent collections have increased. The developments have created jobs, formed day-care centers, developed health clinics, and produced other business ventures," he said.

The heart of the legislation would permit public housing tenants to establish a resident council which could, in turn, create a resident management corporation. While the management corporation could retain profits from improved rent collections, it would be required to provide fidelity bonding and insurance and submit an annual audit of its records to the public housing agency.

Dixon's bill has been referred to the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee, of which he is a member.

Grant to local Union Pacific

Union Pacific Foundation will begin distributing grant checks totaling $80,000 to nine institutions in Illinois, it was announced today by Charles N. Olsen, president. Final distribution will be made in October to United Way organizations.

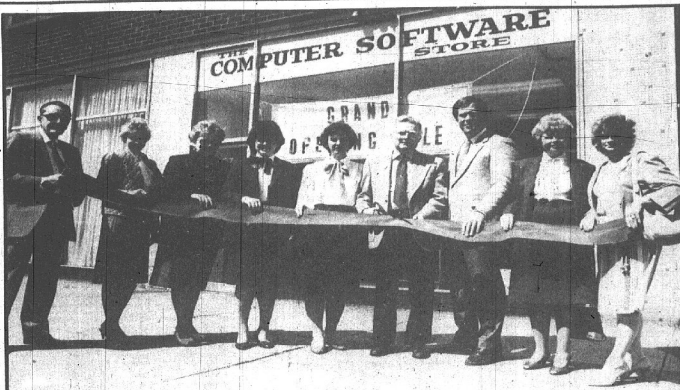

Among Illinois recipients in 1986 are Granite City, represented by the Tri-Cities Area United Way Inc. Union Pacific Foundation, which has been awarding grants since 1959, is giving $6.8 million nationally in 1986 to more than 800 private institutions of higher education, health, social welfare and the arts located primarily in western communities served by the Union Pacific Corporation's operating companies: Union Pacific Railroad, Champlin Petroleum, Rocky Mountain Energy and Upland Industries Corp.

Some grants will help finance energy conservation programs, while others will assist in projects to increase staff efficiency and productivity, creating continuing cost savings.

Incident at lounge leads to charges

Bradley W. Pennabaker, 31, of 1238a 19th St., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a firearm owner identification card when arrested at 4 a.m. April 5 at Garfield's Lounge, 18th and State streets.

Terry Gargac of Granite City alleged Pennabaker was harassing a friend and then made an insulting remark to Gargac. An altercation resulted.

Pennabaker left and returned moments later, witnesses said. Ron Goforth, owner of the lounge, alleged a knife was taken from Pennabaker at that time. A .38 caliber pistol was found in Pennabaker's boot, authorities said.

ST. LOUIS MOTORIST IS HURT ON MCKINLEY BRIDGE

Leon Carter, 42, of St. Louis sustained an injury at 7:55 p.m. April 3 when his auto struck the rear of a tanker-truck on the McKinley Bridge in Venice. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Richard F. Ryan, 30, of 64 University Drive said the Lakeside Roofing Co. truck was out of gasoline and he was waiting for a co-worker to return with some fuel when the crash occurred in the middle lanes of the bridge.

Carter's auto also struck the bridge superstructure. He was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

CHARGES FILED IN VENICE AND WARRANT IS SERVED

Darwin L. Moore, 22, of 1019 Market St., Venice, was booked for battery and failing to obey a police officer April 4 at an apartment in the Lee Wright Homes, Venice.

Moore had been told by police to leave the apartment about 30 minutes earlier at the request of a woman, officers said. Another woman, who owns the property, said Moore came back and she asked him to leave.

The owner alleged he struck her in the face and head and she reported getting out a knife to protect herself and slashing at Moore.

After first being taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment, Moore also was served a warrant alleging failure to appear for a hearing on a traffic charge.

He posted $206 cash bail and was released. He signed a complaint against the woman, who was not arrested at the time.

REPORTS THEFT OF $600

Bruce Koester of Gladbrook, Iowa, reported at 2:13 a.m. April 8 that two women entered his truck at the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza, Madison. One asked to use the radio; when the two left, he found $600 cash was missing.

ARMED ROBBERY BY TWO WOMEN NETS $1,500 CASH

Lewis Hartgers of S. Newton, Iowa, told Madison police at 1:09 a.m. April 9 that he was robbed while standing outside his parked truck at the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza. Two women approached and one of them had a small black gun in her hand; she ordered him to enter the truck and then demanded his wallet.

He said she took cash amounting to $1,500 and threw the wallet down before the women fled on foot.

BOOKED ON THREE CHARGES

John E. Thebaud, 23, Rural Route 2, was charged April 6 with obstructing a police officer, driving with a suspended license and having no valid registration at Pontoon and Nameoki roads, where he allegedly gave police a false identification.

BURGLAR LOOTS GC HOME

Thelma Criss of 1733 Delmar Ave. reported April 9 a burglar entered her home and took a television set, a record player and radio, a portable radio, bed clothes, earrings and a jewelry box. Value of the missing items is more than $460.

ITEMS TAKEN FROM CAR

The grille and the trim from two headlights were stolen from a 1975 Camaro while the car was parked in front of the Francis Preloger residence at 3024 Marshall Ave., he reported April 4.

WOMAN HIT AND KICKED, MAN NABBED BY POLICE

Paul A. Damrath, 25, of 2821 rear Dewey Ave. was arrested for battery after an incident April 4 at Johnson Road and Wabash Avenue. Tracy Cunningham of Granite City said she and Damrath were at a restaurant on Johnson Road and an argument ensued. She left and started walking home when Damrath allegedly got out of his car and began threatening her.

The man allegedly kicked her in the legs, hit her with his fist and threw her to the ground, causing her to strike her head on a parking post, she told police.

Several youths intervened on her behalf. Damrath, arrested at Garfield and Wabash avenues, posted $52 bail.

PEDESTRIAN, 41, INJURED AT SECOND AND BROADWAY

Howard D. Spinks, 41, of East St. Louis suffered an injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center when struck by an auto while crossing Broadway at Second Street in Venice at 5:10 p.m. April 8.

Eugene S. Williams Jr., 27, of Brooklyn said he was driving east on Broadway when he saw the man crossing the street northbound. He said the man appeared to stop but then stepped out in front of his car.

The Venice Fire Department's emergency truck was called prior to the ambulance being summoned.

Burglary suspects flee through Venice

An alert Venice police dispatcher — hearing a Granite City radio broadcast about a van whose occupants were being sought in connection with a burglary at Ray's Truck Plaza, Illinois 3 and Interstate 270 — spotted the vehicle heading east on Broadway at 4:15 a.m. April 4.

The blue and white van made a right turn onto the Lincoln Avenue cutoff, leading to S. Fourth Street, and Venice Dispatcher Dan Pleig contacted Illinois State Police, National City police and Venice units.

Minutes later, Venice Patrolman John Kittel radioed the van was at S. Fourth and Jefferson Avenue, Brooklyn, where Kittel and Brooklyn Police Capt. Jerome Young held the vehicle and occupants until Madison County sheriff's units arrived.

Charles A. Williams, 23, and Morris A. Ward, 24, both of East St. Louis, were charged with burglary. The two men allegedly took nine cases of government surplus butter from a refrigerated truck parked at Ray's Truck Plaza.

The out-of-state truck driver was asleep at the time of the burglary, according to Lt. Dennis Fischer, chief of detectives for the sheriff's department. The butter was recovered at the time of the arrest, Fischer said.

Both Williams and Ward were lodged in the Madison County jail in Edwardsville. Bond was set at $20,000 each by Circuit Judge Charles Chapman.

PROWLING IS CHARGED

David M. DeShazer, 18, of 3121 Mockingbird Lane, Leonard T. Adams, 17, of 3111 Kirkpatrick Homes and a 16-year-old youth were charged with prowling after they allegedly were seen near a garage in the 2100 block of Lynch Avenue at 1:20 a.m. April 5. They were arrested in the 2100 block alley between Lynch and Waterman avenues.

The driver also alighted and turned toward the officer, starting to get back into the car and then fled, reports said. A search of the area failed to locate the motorist or passenger and the car was towed from the scene.

State car license deadline nearing

New, larger renewal stickers for 1987 must be displayed on passenger car license plates expiring in April by midnight Wednesday, April 30, Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced.

The new stickers, measuring one inch by three inches, are royal blue and should be placed at the bottom center of the rear plate.

"New stickers are twice the size of the current stickers," Edgar said, "making them easier to read and more identifiable for police officers. In addition, owners of 1.7 million cars with plates beginning with the letters N through Z are receiving newly designed plates this year, marking the end of the three-year repainting program for all 5.6 million cars in Illinois."

Pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to 400,000 owners who renew their stickers in April, and 170,000 owners who will also receive new license plates.

Juan Lavigne
Juan Lavigne
to speak here

Christian Science lecturer Juan Carlos Lavigne of Buenos Aires, Argentina, finds in the Bible a rich and unified account of the protection afforded those "who have sought their security through spiritual means."

He offers a strongly affirmative reply to his lecture subject, "Can God Protect Us?" His free public lecture will be given on Thursday, April 17, at 8 p.m. in the Christian Science Church, 2500 Delmar Ave.

An atheist for more than 20 years, Lavigne recalls the severe business crisis that prompted him to search the Bible and related Christian Science writings for a higher view of security and protection.

Several years prior to his election to the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Lavigne left an advertising career to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing through prayer. His church, founded in 1879 by American religious leader Mary Baker Eddy, is known for its commitment to Christian healing.

The Lavigne lecture here is sponsored by members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. He will be introduced by Sid Strotheide.

Benefit auction planned for Six Mile Museum

A silent auction, buffet and style show of clothing reminiscent of 100 years ago will be featured at the benefit event for the Old Six Mile Museum to take place on Saturday, April 26, at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The silent auction is planned to coincide with a cocktail hour at 5:30 p.m., followed by a buffet at 6:30 p.m., according to Shirley Adams, general chairman.

Fashions worn 75 to 100 years ago will be modeled during a style show in keeping with the theme, "Walk Through Yesterday."

Throughout the evening, bakery items and popcorn will be offered for sale and there will be a cash bar. Top prize of the evening will be $100 worth of grocery items and there will be two $50 cash presentations.

Later in the evening, music for dancing will be provided by the Big Band Sounds of John Foraszewski.

Proceeds will be utilized for renovation of the museum, located on Maryville Road at Emert Avenue and Stratford Lane. Proceeds also will help retire a loan on the building. Mrs. Georgia Engelke serves as president of the Old Six Mile Historical Society, which operates the museum.

Tickets costing $10 for the public event are available by calling 931-3023 or 452-0467 after 5 p.m., the chairman said.

No-hitter

Holtkamp homers to aid Moss' gem, 16-0

Senior hurler only one walk from perfection

By Dave Whaley

ALTON — It's too bad the Granite City girls softball team put on their best offensive show of the year here Thursday.

Sixteen hits and 10 runs were supplied by the hot Warrior bats. Three of those runs came on a towering, over-the-fence home run by sophomore third baseman Keri Holtkamp.

Yeah, it's too bad it had to happen Thursday. Because the big story was on the mound. While the Warriors were pounding the Alton Redwings into submission, Amy Moss was tossing nothing but zeroes. The result was her first no-hitter and nearly a perfect game.

Moss, a senior who transferred to GCPS from Belleville West, almost had a perfect game. After the Warriors scored seven runs in the fifth inning, the bottom of the fifth would be the last frame because of the 10-run rule. Moss was only three outs from perfection, but walked the leadoff hitter on five pitches.

Unshaken, she struck out the next two hitters and fielded a comebacker to the mound and threw out the last threat to the no-hitter herself.

At the beginning of that last inning, Warrior Coach Jim Davis knew the chance of the perfect game was there.

"I told my defenders to make every effort to field anything," he said. "I didn't want any bloopers falling in there. Amy had just thrown too well to have it ruined on a cheap hit."

As it was, the perfect game was lost probably because Moss hurried a bit to the leadoff hitter, Cindy Rounds, and walked her.

"We played good defense behind her, which you need to have a chance at a perfect game," Davis said. "Karen Sykes made a couple of good plays at shortstop."

Catcher Kim Corey made the other good defensive play, springing out from behind the plate to field a bunt by Tracy Malson and throwing her out in the third inning.

But mostly it was Moss doing it herself. Eight of the 15 outs were strikeouts and Alton never got the ball out of the infield. "We've got some tough games coming up," Davis said of his team, now 2-4 but 2-0 in the Southwestern Conference. "But if we get pitching like this..."

Alton fell to 0-5, 0-1 in the SWC. While Moss was mowing the Redwings down, the Warriors were once again hitting with authority and running well on the basepaths. They scored in every inning.

Tracy Gaudette led off the first with a walk, stole second and scored when first baseman Sarah Rathgeb missed a throw after a sacrifice bunt by Sykes. Sykes ended up at third on the play and scored on a double to left center by Holtkamp, who had three extra base hits and five RBIs.

Holtkamp went to third on an infield out by Kim Armour, but was stranded. The Warriors got a run after two were out in the second. Cathy Lewis singled to right, stole second and scored when Gaudette's grounder got through Rathgeb at first.

Sykes singled to center to start the third and scored when Holtkamp ripped a triple up the left center gap. Holtkamp came in on Armour's sacrifice fly to make it 5-0. Corey and Lewis reached on errors to start the fourth, and the catcher scored on another wild throw. With runners at second and third, Sykes singled to right, scoring Lewis and sending Gaudette to third.

But when the Redwings held the ball too long, Gaudette raced home to score and Sykes moved to second. She went to third on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch by starting pitcher Nikki Harris.

But the Warriors saved their best for last. In the fifth, Amber Marsh walked and Jamie Siebert doubled. Sandy Stenberg singled in one run and Kim Corey reached on an error, scoring Siebert to make it 11-0. Lewis followed with an RBI single before Gaudette forced Lewis at second.

Sykes came through with her third straight hit, scoring Corey to make it 13-0 and sending Gaudette to second. Holtkamp then stepped in.

The field in Alton has a fence in left field probably no more than 200 feet from home plate. And when Holtkamp got a pitch up in the strike zone, she sent one towering over the fence for a three-run homer to finish the scoring.

"I don't know how far that fence is, but that ball was hit, there's no doubt about that," Davis said. "We're playing like a ball club now. The spirit on the bench is good and we're starting to put the bat on the ball. We're just starting to jell."

The Warriors have their hands full next week, travelling to Edwardsville Monday and to Belleville West Tuesday. They lost Cahokia Thursday and play in a tournament at Rosary (St. Louis) Saturday.

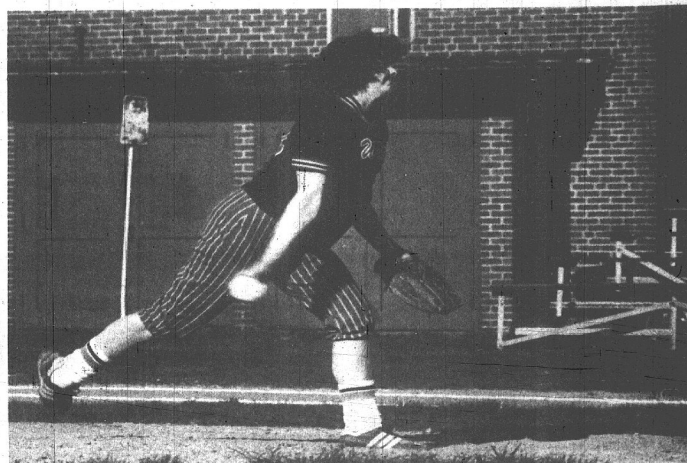

That tournament was scheduled for this weekend, but was pushed back.

"It turns out Saturday is prom night," Davis said. "That's an important night for these young ladies, but so far I know of only one potential conflict."

The big game is the league game against the always-tough Maroons. But with Moss, an ex-Maroon, throwing well, the Warriors can compete.

"She was in a tough situation, transferring over here," Davis said. "It's tough for a girl at a new school making new friends, but she's been terrific."

But never more terrific than she was Thursday.
